JOIN YOUR PARTNER IN AUSTRALIA

Many people migrate to Australia on the basis of their relationship with their partner, who is either an Australian citizen, permanent resident or eligible New Zealand citizen.

There are a number of options available for partner and family visas, and we can work with you to ensure that this important step in your life goes as smoothly as possible.

There are a number of requirements to be met - including proving that your relationship is recognized as genuine, and issues such as health and character requirements, custody of dependents - and where and when to lodge your visa application.

We regularly deal with Australian Government embassies around the world, and can help you be united with your family members as soon as possible. We can help reduce delays that could be caused by difficulties with complex visa application documentation requirements.

When you want your partner to join you in Australia there are a lot of personal details to get organized so that you can both get on with your new life in Australia. When you are waiting for your partner to join you in Australia, the last thing you need is unnecessary or avoidable delays keeping you apart.

It's helpful to plan properly so that you make the right visa decision, and many couples find it very reassuring to have a professional to guide them through the visa process. We like to give you peace of mind and we will work to build a trusting and special relationship as you work through the visa process.

It is often difficult for an overseas partner to join their Australian Citizen or Permanent Resident partner in Australia, which makes it hard to show that you are living together as a genuine couple. We will discuss your options so that you make the best choice of visa to apply for.

We will provide you with a Progress Report so you can monitor your progress as we work together to compile the documentation and evidence required to confirm that your relationship is genuine and ongoing.

Freeman Migration Services Australia has been providing assistance to partners since 2003 and we have a lot of experience putting partner visa applications together. You can read what some of our happy customers have said about our services on our website.
